Our Building Process

At B&D Builders, we believe every building is an opportunity to create something special. Buildings should be more than functional; they should inspire and delight the people who use them every day.

We approach each project as a true collaboration with our customers. We listen. We ask the right questions. We welcome your input every step of the way. You'll find no egos or hidden agendas here – just a commitment to quality craftsmanship and satisfied customers.

1 Initial Concept & Site Visit .....

We'll get the lay of the land and discuss how we can help – whether you have a sketch, completed plans, or just an idea of what you're looking to build.

2 Concept Development

Next, we will develop the concept design for your project. We may present several variations (or evaluate what you or your architect provided), and we'll work with you until we have all the details just right.

3 Proposal to Proceed .....

You'll receive a complete project proposal, including details on pricing and schedule. When you say okay, the building of your dream begins!

4 Architect & Engineer Involvement

We'll work with the best architects and engineers to ensure we meet your local codes and make the best use of your space, geology, and climate.

5 Construction .....

Our professionally trained crews get to work, with your dedicated job supervisor and project manager leading the way.

6 Interior & Exterior Options

Doors, windows, staircases, finishes – we'll provide plenty of custom options to make sure every detail is just as you pictured it.

7 Making Good on Our Promise

We'll complete a walk-through of your finished project to make sure you're satisfied. It's how we live up to our promise of a B&D structure being Built Right or Not At All.
