Buildings That Celebrate Your Life's Work

Why Choose B&D

Ben Esh and Daniel Glick founded B&D Builders in 2000, bringing together years of construction experience and a team of skilled designers and craftsmen. Since then, they've built a portfolio of fine custom structures that includes luxury homes, equestrian facilities, event venues, restaurants, wineries, and more throughout North America, including projects across the United States and in British Columbia and the Bahamas.

B&D's craftsmanship, attention to detail, and personal attention create exquisite, one-of-a-kind commercial buildings. We think about the way your business operates, what your employees or customers are looking for, and any applicable codes and permits that need attention. Our custom approach to construction and renovation ensures your building will look and work exactly the way you need it to.

Your Business, Your Vision

With more than 20 years in the building industry, we've learned a thing or two about working one-on-one with customers. It's what we enjoy most, and we approach every project as a true collaboration.

When you work with B&D Builders, you'll have a dedicated project manager committed to making your vision a reality. Available to meet whenever you need to, your project manager will ask the right questions, listen, and welcome your input during every step in the process to ensure you love the finished product.

We take great pride in our work. No matter if your project has a large footprint, intricate building parameters, complicated permit situation, or any other challenge, we will exceed all timing, budget, and design expectations. Your complete satisfaction is our ultimate goal, and we'll do what it takes to get things done. At B&D, our buildings are built right or not at all.

Distinctive Details

While it's easy to spot a B&D Builders structure at first glance, when you take a closer look, you truly see the skilled craftsmanship and attention to detail that make our buildings shine. From handmade pegs to hand-hewn accent posts, to unique ironwork and millwork, it's the little things that make your building special and totally unique to your business.

Far from creating cookie-cutter interiors, we make sure each aspect of your building suits your needs and embodies your individual style. Custom kitchens and bathrooms, timber frame ceilings, statement staircases, mantels and shelving made from historic reclaimed wood — these are just a few examples of the distinctive details we can include to set your business apart.

Space for the Way You Do Business

Restaurant? Wedding venue? Office building? Whatever type of commercial building you need, we can build it.

Soaring ceilings and chandeliers. Warm, intimate rooms for meeting. Offices that take advantage of natural light. We create settings that inspire employees and customers alike.

Whether you're building the perfect venue for life's celebrations or making space for employees to do their best work, B&D Builders will take care of every detail. The optimal number of bathrooms and storage spaces, accommodations for ADA compliance, adherence to your local codes — we create solutions to get everything just right.

All Under One Roof

When choosing a builder for new construction or renovation, you may find that some can handle one part of your project, but not others. At B&D Builders, we're virtually a one-stop shop. We work with best-in-class specialty brands Mid-Atlantic Timberframes, Mid-Atlantic Steel Fabrication, Vintage Millwork and Restoration, and Vintage Wood and Forged Iron to provide a wide range of services for custom building. Plus, we have our own crews, ensuring reliability, better lead times, and quality control from start to finish.
